

SFSU ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR & CO-FOUNDER OF THE TEACHING EXCELLENCE NETWORK NAMED A COMMISSIONER OF NCTAF

by nick naraja - Wednesday, May 27, 2015

<http://rosesinconcrete.org/sfsu-associate-professor-co-founder-of-the-teaching-excellence-network-named-a-commissioner-of-nctaf/>

Jeff Duncan-Andrade has joined the National Commission on Teaching & America's Future as a commissioner. Various current board members are very excited to have him as part of their strong, innovative team of educators. Genevieve DeBose praises Duncan-Andrade as "a masterful teacher whose focus on relationships, culturally relevant pedagogy, and social justice will help inform the Commission's work," and Melinda George calls him "a teacher of teachers".

Click here to read the full announcement.

Roses in Concrete Community School